“Guess Who’s Coming to town” the new single by “Soloman and Lacey” has a poignant home coming queen undertone which captures the spirit of local community life, the very Heart and Soul of the special place in which we call home. Filmed on location in the small regional Australian town of Alexandra their latest clip embodies the spirit of place. Renowned Australian artist Marian Rennie has collaborated by painted the stunning Single/ Album cover.

Seven Albums behind them and an eighth in the pipeline to be released in early 2021 *“The Red dust gypsy blues is never far from the surface of their songs that sparkle like diamonds against a contemporary pop rock landscape, “Soloman and Lacey’s ” music is profoundly lyrical with a sense of urgency capturing some of the best poetic musical moments of our time.

“Where Bo Diddley meets the Veronicas and channelling the 70’s vibe is where where Soloman and Lacey are most at home”

“Guess Who’s Coming to Town” is available from the usual online music stores.
