

Dragon Fly

Words & Music by Gary Soloman

Did you ever not know, did you ever not see
That the man you became would fall down on your knees
By the sea where the dragons fly
Angels sang the last lullaby

Does love draw an arrow straight to the heart
Does she give you the reasons as you part
Will inner sense find you when you're there all alone
Will she pick you up take you home

On an island of dreams where it all ended
Surrounded by the years that you intended
With the wind in your face
No time no goodbyes
Down by the sea where the dragons fly

Does love draw an arrow straight to the heart
Does she give you the reasons as you part
Will inner sense find you when you're there all alone
Will she pick you up take you home

Instrumental

Does love draw an arrow straight to the heart
Does she give you the reasons as you part
Will inner sense find you when you're there all alone
Will she pick you up take you home
